

The ultimate communication system for legal firms – now with enhanced security

The paperless office poses many challenges for today's law firms. For instance, managing documents that are moved to an online environment has become much more complicated.

Confidential information must be readily accessible to the people who need it, and simultaneously safeguarded from all unsolicited entities.

TitanFile + Credeon Cloud Data Protection have teamed up to give you an integrated solution that delivers high security and easy accessibility. With its flexible BYOD policy, mobile capabilities, three layers of security – including client-side encryption – this integrated solution lets your team freely exchange information with clients and partners without having to worry about security and privacy.

See how TitanFile + Credeon can help strengthen your organization today.
